FAST healthcare

FAST, a leading UK provider of healthcare e-learning was established in 2002 to create short courses addressing topics identified by NHS Trusts, Social Services and other agencies.

As a partnership organisation FAST works closely with topic specialists. These identify the needs of healthcare personnel and importantly ensure that the courses then created directly focus on the information actually needed and in a tone that is wholly appropriate for its audience. This in turn improves the service delivered by personnel for the benefit of patients and service users.
